The work on the installation of a chlorinator for the water system, not including North Charlestown supply, is nearly completed but not in operation, at a cost of $3,377.90. This has been paid from the income of the water department. The last payment of $1,122.34 has been paid from 1949 money which does not appear in 1948 expenses. Actually this cuts into the balance on hand at the end of 1948.

The systems are all in very good condition. The storage at Hall's Pond was sufficient to tide over the last summer's drouth without a dangerous shortage.

The North Charlestown reservoir is spring fed sufficiently so that when the brook supply is very low there is still enough water to supply that community.

REPORT OF HEALTH OFFICER

Aside from a very few cases of measles, mumps, and chicken pox, no contagious diseases have been reported.

Samples of water from both the village and North Charlestown supplies have been sent to the State Board of Health for analysis at various times. The reports indicated some slight contamination at time of collection.

Charlestown was one of the towns selected in 1948 by the State Board of Health for the survey of Hay Fever conditions, in the state. A sampling devise was set up near East street and glass slides coated with petroleum jelly were changed daily by your health officer from March 15 to October 15. These slides were collected by the State Board about once in two weeks and taken to the department office at Concord. The results of this survey will not be available until published by the State Board some time in 1949.

Samples of water from the Village supply early in February of this year were analysed by State Board with the report "satisfactory at time of collection."

Respectfully submitted,

LOUIC L. COMSTOCK,

Health Officer

REPORT OF THE BUILDING COMMITTEE

The Building Committee has kept in touch with the architect and met several times this year to perfect the plans for the new building.

In accordance with the vote of the 1948 annual school meeting, a new member was appointed, Mr. Walter Palmer. Mr. Palmer was chosen to represent the selectmen and also the interests of the people of South Charlestown.

The continued high prices of building materials and labor have been discouraging, but just lately these seem to be leveling off and the market to become more stable. At a meeting held on February 1st, with the architect, we were told that prices of such buildings as the one we contemplate had dropped considerably in the past two months. Also that there is a likelihood that the downward trend may continue into the summer. There is in Congress at this time a bill for Federal aid for school buildings. It is generally believed that such a bill will pass and will give towns like ours substantial aid,—up to 45 or 50% of the cost of the building.

A recent, new problem in the local educational field is the Co-operative School district that is being backed by the State Commissioner of Education. Such a suggested district would include Charlestown, Walpole, Alstead and two or three smaller towns, with a consolidated Junior-Senior High School somewhere in the middle of the area. Such a proposition needs a great deal of study and this committee is not prepared as yet to make any recommendation in regard to it.

The housing condition of our schools is progressively more acute (another room is needed for next September), and building of the complete plan is economically possible with Federal aid.

However, until something definite is done with the bills concerning aid for school building construction which are now in the State Legislature and in Congress, it is recommended that articles in our warrant having to do with building construction be passed over and the meeting adjourned until the early part of July.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Charlestown School Board:

I herewith submit my third annual report as your Superintendent of Schools.

Your schools have progressed as satisfactorily as could be expected this past year. The majority of the teachers and parents have realized the limitations imposed by our lack of adequate facilities and have co-operated to the utmost.

Throughout the country today there seems to be a great amount of unrest and uncertainty as to what the future may bring. This has been brought about by the difficulty of post-war adjustments, a presidential election, an unsettled foreign condition and an economic readjustment. Whenever there is unrest among adults, the youngsters are sure to feel it. This unrest, plus the large numbers in each grade and the way school is spread out over the town, has not made the maintenance of order an easy proposition. If it were not for the fact that we have a good organizer for a headmaster and a strong, conscientious faculty, we would have even more difficulty in this matter.

Schools with adequate facilities and classes of from 25-30 pupils are able to cope with this feeling of insecurity much better as the teacher can then give more attention to each child's needs and provide one more place where the youngster may feel secure. The headmaster or principal can use his time to much better advantage also. It is unfortunate that we have not had the advantage of a new building to help us over this adjustment period.

The staff has continued its ambitious program of professional improvement. The elementary teachers have held the first part of a workshop on the teaching of the social studies. The follow-up work will be in the near future. The high school teachers have held a workshop on meeting the needs of all high school students. There have been periodic teachers' meetings to discuss and work out solutions to various problems as they arise.

In addition, your superintendent and one teacher attended the summer session at the University of New Hampshire, five teachers have just completed a course in audio-visual education at Keene Teachers' College and several of the elementary teachers have enrolled in a course on social studies to be taught by an instructor from the teachers' college. The professional library I have collected is being used continuously.

If the knowledge gained by these teachers is to be of any use to the school system, we are going to have to supply these teachers with the necessary tools to put their knowledge into practice. Failing to do this, I am afraid we will soon quench this intellectual curiosity which is such a healthy sign.

The shop course has proved to be a very popular one. Eighty percent of our boys are enrolled. We are fortunate to have an instructor able to bring the best out of each pupil. The appropriation voted last year was made to stretch as far as possible by the purchase of surplus machinery and tools from the government. A new saw, lathe and electric heat treating furnace were also bought.

I would like to publicly thank Mr. Orborne Stevens who donated a metal cut-off saw, Keil Lock Company who donated a lathe and Mr. Horace Holden who has helped put some of the machinery into working order. We now have a worth while unit and the boys should benefit materially from it.

Parents and organizations have continued their fine support of the school and its programs. The Mothers' Clubs of Charlestown and North Charlestown have helped materially in making the hot lunch program possible. It would be impossible to continue these programs inexpensively without this help. The North Charlestown Mothers' Club has also given some much needed playground equipment to the Farwell School.

The "get-acquainted day" we had last spring proved to be a valuable supplement to the pre-school clinic. Plans now call for an expanded "get-acquainted day" which will also include a physical examination of all youngsters planning to enter first grade next fall. The response last year was very heartening and it is hoped that parents will respond as well this year.

In September a census was taken of all children from birth to sixteen years of age. The following table, made from the census figures, may prove helpful in planning for the future.

Grade	1948-49	1949-50	1950-51	1951-52	1952-53
1	44	42	39	40	37

1	11	7	12	9	8
2	8	11	7	12	9
3	9	8	11	7	12
4	5	9	8	11	7
5	6	5	9	8	11
6	8	6	5	9	8

From these figures, it can readily be seen that something must be done next year to provide one more room.

The enrollment at the Farwell School has been about fifty all year. If the seventh and eighth grades had remained, there would have been between sixty-five and seventy pupils in the school at all times. Transporting the seventh and eighth grades to Charlestown has helped the North Charlestown situation materially and has been cheaper than renting a room at that end of town. It has not made things any easier at the Holden School but did make possible the division of the eighth grade into two sections.

A year ago the course the school district should take, in relieving the crowded conditions and providing adequate facilities, seemed very clear cut. If we were to continue to support a high school, it seemed imperative to provide a building designed to carry on a high school program.

Dr. Hilton C. Buley, our new Commissioner of Education, has been very active in acquainting the people of the state of the advantages and the needs of the formation of cooperative high schools in the rural areas of New Hampshire.

For some time there has been a feeling that the small high school does not provide a broad enough program to provide the needs of all the pupils. In many instances parents have seen fit to send their children to larger high schools at considerable additional expense to themselves.

One answer to this problem seems to be in the formation of cooperative high schools by combining several small schools into one large high school governed by a school board composed of members from all towns sending pupils to the cooperative high school.

This solution is being worked out very satisfactorily in practically all of the states of the United States except New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine.

Obviously there are many hurdles to be overcome in the formation of such a cooperative district but, in the majority of places where it has been attempted, the results have been beyond all expectations.

Although building costs are still high, they are beginning to level off and some items have even dropped a little.

The prospect of Federal Aid for the construction of school houses now looks very good. There are two bills at present before Congress. From our point of view, there is very little difference between them. Both would provide about fifty per cent aid for construction in New Hampshire.

Although Charlestown cannot afford to carry this project alone, every possible step should be taken to be sure that the district will be in a position to accept Federal funds if and when they become available. To be in such a position, the district might take one of two alternatives.

First: They could vote a bond issue at the March meeting sufficiently large to cover the amount needed to match Federal funds. The bond would not have to be floated until matching funds became available.

Or Second: The necessary articles could be included in the annual warrant but, before action was taken on them, the meeting could be adjourned to some later date. If the situation in Washington had not cleared by that time, another adjournment could be voted.

Either of these plans would eliminate the necessity of obtaining permission from the Superior Court to hold a special meeting. It is doubtful if a town could work fast enough in getting permission to hold the special meeting and voting the bond issue to qualify for Federal Aid.

If the second alternative were followed, it would give the board and the building committee a little more time to see to what extent the legislature will feel that the educational program, sponsored by the State Board of Education, should be carried out. Many now unsettled issues would then be cleared up.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the school board, teachers and parents for the fine cooperation shown this past year. Through continued support and cooperation, we may all look forward to the continued strengthening of the Charlestown school system.

Respectfully submitted,

Henry J. Hastings,
Superintendent of Schools

HEADMASTERS REPORT

It is with pleasure that I submit this report as Headmaster of Charlestown High School.

In this report it will be impossible to cover all of the events that take place during the school year. However I will mention some of the activities of special nature that are conducted for the betterment of all pupils.

In setting up the shop program this year a committee of citizens representing various phases of industry were consulted. Many worthwhile ideas evolved from this meeting and with further study a course was outlined for a four year shop program. This year the program has been enlarged and all boys in grades 7-12 have an opportunity to take shop work. The program is set up for grades 7, 8, and 9 to have woodworking; grade 10 general shop; grade 11 metal working and grade 12 advanced metal or woodworking. Related mechanical drawing will be included each year.

Several pieces of machinery have been added during the past year including a metal lathe donated by the Keil Lock Co.; a power hack saw given by Orborne Stevens; a new South Bend Metal Lathe, circular saw and jointer were purchased; a shaper, milling machine and two metal working lathes were secured from the Government Surplus.

This year 84 percent of the high school boys took the shop courses. Many for vocational training, others for a vocational experience.

In the Homemaking curriculum over 80 per cent of the girls in High School are taking these practical courses.

Nearly 40 per cent of the High School enrollment have taken first aid. The eighth grade is having a course in Junior first aid for the balance of this school year.

Driver Education was offered to all Juniors and Seniors last year. There has been difficulty in scheduling a car to carry out the Driver Training program as we cannot use a car enough to warrant the loan of one from the A. A. A., and we have not been successful in working out a scheme whereby we could share a car with surrounding towns.

Provision has been made for all girls and boys in grades 5-12 to have one period a week of physical education. Although this program is hampered by lack of equipment and facilities many worthwhile activities have been developed in the program this year.

The boys' basketball team of 1947-1948 earned an opportunity to go to the Class C tournament held in Hanover. The four days spent there offered the boys a broad experience which many of them will never forget. The boys under Mr. Herbert have had excellent leadership and guidance. The girls under the able coaching of Mrs. Little have consistently had excellent teams.

The noon lunch program has become more of a problem each year with the increasing enrollment. This year approximately 180 complete meals are served each day. The preparation of the meals are done in the Town Hall Kitchen and carried to the various class rooms in vacuum cans. Girls of the Home Economics Class are assisting again this year under the leadership of Mrs. Bingham.

In carrying out the various programs many complete classes must pass to the Town Hall, Shop, Music Room, etc. This situation presents difficulties and the co-operation of each pupil is imperative since many times the movement of these groups must by necessity be improved. For the most part I feel that pupils are co-operating. However, a few often spoil this record for the majority.

The 8th grade has an enrollment of 48 this year. This made it necessary to split the class into two divisions. This was made possible by using the laboratory as a home room and the music room located in the primary building for an occasional class room. This division of the class has given the pupils of this grade more individual attention and should give them a fine background for high school.

The basement of the main building has been put to more use this year. The Junior and Senior Shop boys assisted in making a room for the school nurse. This offers a place for physical examinations and consultations. Another part of this room is used for a recreation room. A pool table and ping pong sets being the main attractions. The room is open for bus pupils who come early and stay during the noon hour. Town pupils have a period after school.

The commercial girls under Miss Bonner carried out the Christmas seals drive in a very efficient manner which is characteristic of the department.

It is quite apparent that the school will have to provide more instruction in instrumental music to fill in the gaps in the orchestra and band.

Teachers are continuing to make more use of visual aids in classroom teaching and five of the faculty have taken a course this past year in this field.

Records show that Charlestown graduates are doing well in schools of higher learning and in vocations.

Teachers of all the grades and departments of High School have co-operated whole heartedly to make for better educational opportunities for all the pupils. I wish parents would visit the various classrooms and confer with the teachers about the mutual problems concerning their children. I most certainly would welcome a conference with any parent and would appreciate any suggestions that would make a better education for pupils of this school.

I would like to make mention of Mrs. Hasham's efficient and constructive work in health and the fine co-operation of Doctors Willard and Young in helping the school examine those participating in athletics.

I want to thank Supt. Hastings for the loyalty, suggestions and sincere co-operation that he has so willingly extended to all teachers and to me during the year. To the school board, we are grateful for your official backing and support in the many problems pertaining to the running and betterment of our school.

At this time I would like to express the appreciation of the school to the selectmen for making the town hall available for our increased school activities.

There is an earnest attempt to offer the pupils of Charlestown schools a program that will more fully meet their needs and to that end we are continually striving.

Respectfully submitted,

WALDO STREETER,

Headmaster

Charlestown Teachers' Salary Schedule

Last year many of the towns granted salary schedules. Our teachers asked for a schedule to equalize their salaries but as the request came after the March meeting the Board asked them to hold off their demands until this year. Because our teachers were willing to wait when others were upsetting their school systems, because we feel something must be done on a wide scale to keep teachers from leaving the profession, and because we feel our own teachers are deserving of increased salaries we present the following schedule, mutually agreed upon, for your serious consideration.

Basic

1. The basic principle of this schedule is a single salary schedule for all teachers with equal training and experience.
- 1A. This plan provides for a flexible salary schedule using the Consumers Price Index compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the United States Department of Labor. The average of the monthly index numbers for the previous calendar year will be used to determine the category for the year.
2. Extra duties are to be carried by all teachers at no extra compensation.
3. If there is a large difference between a teacher's present salary and his proper salary on the schedule it will take three years to reach the proper position and if a small difference, it will be reached in two years.
4. Sick leave of ten days per year will be granted with substitute provided by the Board. Unused sick leave will accumulate to the extent of thirty school days. Sick leave will apply to personal illness and critical illness or death in the immediate family.
5. The School Board may, if it deems advisable, place a teacher upon a step in the schedule other than that which his preparation and experience provides. The maximum of any teacher may be raised if the board feels his work merits it.
6. Teachers whose work is not satisfactory are to be given notice to that effect not later than January fifteenth.

7. This schedule is subject to revision at any time by vote of the Board, but any changes in the schedule will be discussed with the Teachers' Association before definite action is taken by the School Board.
8. Each teacher is required to earn at least four semester hours of credit through an accredited post-secondary institution every five years, subject to the approval of the Superintendent of Schools.
9. A teacher's degree status as of September 1 of any contract year shall determine the schedule under which his contract shall be made, provided the School Board is notified of the likelihood of change in degree status by the previous January 1.
10. There shall be an intermediary step in the salary schedule for teachers earning 15 credit hours toward the completion of the requirements for a Master's Degree. This step shall be one-half the difference between the position on the Bachelors Degree schedule and the Master's Degree schedule.

NURSE'S REPORT, 1948

There is always more talk than action concerning the health of the school children.

Educators place health at the top of national needs, but health programs of today leave much to be desired.

Every child should have a complete physical examination as he enters school, and from time to time through elementary and secondary grades. This means an examination as thorough as that given by the U. S. Military Service.

It is the responsibility of every parent to work with the school agencies to see that such a program is brought about, and to see that physical and mental defects of children are properly diagnosed. It is not the responsibility of the school to remedy these defects, but that of the parents' physician and agencies interested in the welfare of children.

It is the duty of the school nurse to check the teeth, throat, skin, hair and posture of the pupils. In addition the vision is checked by the use of Snellen's Chart. Cases of defective vision are reported to parents at once and usually receive competent professional attention. "Good eyesight's our most valuable asset."

All pupils above second grade were given the group hearing test by Western Electric audiometer. The test was carried on at school.

Through the cooperation of the N. H. Tuberculosis Association seventy-nine pupils and ten teachers were Patch tested. Reactors were examined by Dr. Robert Kerr and X-rayed at the clinic.

The Society of Crippled Children assisted us in the care of children with orthopedic defects.

These agencies contribute their services and provide opportunities for making the school health program of service to children.
